

Description: Wilmington First Baptist is a small church (15-25 people on an average Sunday) with a storied history since the early 1800's. We are a mixed age congregation in a 110 year old building, but with a revitalized church feel. Despite our small numbers, our congregation is committed to spiritual renewal and growth. We are currently focusing on developing spiritual health and pursuing discipleship opportunities while continuing to serve and spread the Gospel message in the community. We are excited about the future ways that we expect God to open doors, use our people to serve, and build up a body of believers that is about God's Kingdom.

This is an unpaid internship opportunity for the 2025 Fall semester that might be extended into the Spring semester of 2026. One of the things our leadership is passionate about is raising up a new generation of church servant leaders and providing opportunities for them to get experience by serving in a small church ministry. We want to invest in a college / graduate student who believes they are called to serve in part or full-time church ministry or missions.
